End User’s Software License Agreement

The software that is subject to this End User’s Software License Agreement (“EULA”, “Agreement”) is the PDFsam Visual software (the “Software”). This EULA is a legally binding agreement between the end user (the “Licensee” or “you”) and Sober Lemur S.r.l. (the “Licensor”) pursuant to which the Licensor licenses the use of the Software to the Licensee. If you are agreeing to this EULA not as an individual but on behalf of your company, then “Licensee” or “you” means your company, and you are binding your company to this EULA.

Any installing, accessing, or using the Software by you (the “Licensee”) constitutes Licensee’s acceptance of, and promise to comply with, all of the terms and conditions of this EULA.

The Software must be activated with a license key in order to operate after a trial period of two weeks after installation. The procedure to acquire a license key is described in section "Activation".

Installation

The Licensee is solely responsible for installation and usage of the software. The documentation will provide recommended requirements for the hardware and software environment. Licensee shall be solely responsible for all expenses incurred in Licensee’s installation and use of the Software.

Activation

You may use the Software for a limited trial period of two weeks at no charge for the purpose of evaluating if the Software is right for you. After this period the Software may offer only limited functionality or may not operate at all.

The Software must be activated after a trial period of two weeks after installation in order to access some or all of its functionalities after this period. To complete activation after the trial period you must acquire a license key from the Licensor. Upon receipt of payment of the applicable fees, a license key will be delivered as described in section “Delivery”. If Licensee has any problem with the activation process, Licensee should contact the customer support at support@pdfsam.org.

A license key can be acquired as a perpetual license or subject to a subscription.

- A perpetual license key gives the Licensee the right to use the Software perpetually under the terms of this agreement, provided the applicable license fees have been paid.
- A subscription provides Licensee a time-limited license key to use the Software under the terms of this agreement and requires the Licensee to pay a monthly or annual fee. Upon expiration of the subscription, the agreement terminates automatically in the event that Licensee fails to pay the applicable renewal fees. License fees will be automatically collected until the subscription is canceled or terminated. The Licensor or Licensee may cancel or terminate the subscription at any time. Any cancellation will only cancel future billings and takes place from the next billing cycle, Licensee will not be entitled to any credit or refund for amounts accrued or paid prior to such termination.
